

When you're in a hole, the candy mint with the hole will help you out.

5¢

LIFE SAVERS
THE CANDY MINT WITH THE HOLE

Wilkins Trial Lags; Jury Box Still Unfilled

Sixteen Talesmen Rejected
and New Panel of Fifty Called; Delay Seems to Annoy Aged Defendant

Confident of Acquittal

Only Desire Is That Case
Shall Be Settled Expeditiously, He Declares

Staff Correspondence
MINEOLA, L. I., June 10.—The trial of Dr. Walter Keene Wilkins, charged with wife murder, was halted to-day through inability to complete the jury. A special panel of twenty-five talesmen was called. Sixteen responded, but each was excused after a brief examination by Charles Wyson, chief counsel for the defense, and District Attorney Charles R. Weeks. Proceedings were adjourned before noon, to the obvious disappointment of the defendant.

A panel of fifty has been called for to-day. It was expected by attorneys for both sides that out of this number the necessary half dozen will be found to complete the jury. Prejudice, preconceived opinions on the case, objections to capital punishment and pressure of personal business served to do away with all of yesterday's veniremen.

Only Three Women Present
The courtroom was sparsely filled with middle-aged and old men. There were only three female auditors, and the proceedings on the second day of the trial were colorless. Dr. Wilkins, charged by the state with killing his wife at their Long Beach home February 27, was immaculately attired. He made a venerable figure as he leaned back in his chair and twisted his hands nervously. He displayed little emotion, but his lower lip drooped and quivered occasionally as a barb shot home. This was noticeable when the talesmen were asked if they thought it probable that a man would kill his wife, or if they considered it likely that one of Dr. Wilkins' appearance might be expected to be guilty of such an act.

Every reference to his wife brought a quick flicker of the eyelid, a spasmodic movement of the foot, a tightening of the nervous, restless hands. The buoyancy that marked him when he took his seat gradually disappeared, leaving depression behind, as he heard one after another of the talesmen display his reluctance to serve on the jury.

Wilkins Approves Jury
The selections already made meet with his approval. "We have six men who are reputable citizens and fair, open-minded men," he said yesterday. "My only desire is to have the case against me presented as expeditiously as possible, and to have the opportunity to present my side of things. I have every confidence that when twelve disinterested and fair-minded men hear my story my complete exoneration will follow. It is a sore trial at my time of life to have to submit to the humiliation of a trial for such an atrocious crime, but I am convinced that justice and right will prevail, and, fortified by a clear conscience and full faith in God, I will live to see my name cleared and all suspicion removed that I injured by thought, word or deed one who was so near and dear to me."

George E. Lascher, a florist residing at Great Neck, was the first talesman called. He said he did not think it improbable that a man might murder his wife. John B. C. Hegelman, of Glen Head, confessed the justice of capital punishment was a debatable point in his mind. David C. Jordan lived for nineteen years in East Rockaway and, as Dr. Wilkins also had lived there, it was assumed that he might be prejudiced in his favor.

John A. Wood, a farmer of South Smithfield, believed his business responsibilities would prevent him from giving all his attention to the case. Alfred P. Simonsen, of Wheatley Hills, was deemed unsuitable because he will be school with Charles Wyson. William J. Clark, a Homestead contractor, had formed his opinion on the case before he came to court. Charles A. Reitmeyer, of Freeport, did not believe in capital punishment.

The rest of the veniremen rejected for various reasons were: Louis C. Piquet, Woodbury; S. Edgar Dye, Roosevelt; Albert W. Flower, Bayville; George T. Soper, Cedarhurst; John C. Writenour, Hempstead; Henry E. Griffin, Oyster Bay; Joseph E. Overlooker, Cedar Bay; John Guthrie, Great Neck; and Charles H. Ellison, Jr., Baldwin.

Roosevelt "Next Governor"
Boom Is Started at Convention of Volunteer Firemen

OYSTER BAY, Long Island, June 10.—Lieutenant Colonel Theodore Roosevelt was acclaimed as "the next Governor" to-day at the conclusion of his address to the twenty-fourth annual convention of the Southern New York Volunteer Firemen's Association. The cry was taken up all over the hall. He refused to comment afterward.

Tomorrow the 500 delegates will march to Young's Cemetery and place wreaths on the grave of Theodore Roosevelt.

TELEPHONE BRACKETS
Equipment for
Serving Four Desks

Great variety of styles—raising, collapsible, swinging to meet any condition in office or home.
Representative will call to demonstrate. No obligation to purchase.
INSTALLED ON TRIAL FOR ONE WEEK
Circulars of All Styles on Request.
SCOFIELD & CO.
Tel. Beckman 4411 150 Nassau St., N. Y.

INSTRUCTION
New York—Manhattan

Programme for Day Of Boy Scout Drive

10 a. m., athletic parade: Fifth Avenue, from Washington Arch to Fifty-ninth Street. Great assemblage of past and present day celebrities of the world of sports, representing every branch of athletics.

12 noon, Sub-Treasury: Speakers—Martin Vogel, Assistant Treasurer of the United States; George Gordon Battle; Mrs. Julia Reinhardt, champion of woman suffrage; Lieutenant C. H. Blanchard, A. E. F.; Rev. Dr. A. C. McGraw; Colonel Cecil Williams, J. P. Santa Marina, lecturer, and L. W. Barclay, director of education, Boy Scouts of America. Entertainers and musical programme.

12 to 2 p. m., meetings: Pennsylvania Station, Grand Central Terminal, Public Library, Madison Square, Union Square and Argonne Forest; speaking and special attractions.

3 p. m., Boy Scout demonstration: Wanamaker's auditorium; drills, wig-wagging, semaphoring, first aid treatment and talks by Scouts.

3 p. m., ball game: Polo Grounds, New York Yankees and Detroit Tigers; parade and drill, with demonstration of Scout work, etc.; speaking by Police Commissioner Enright, "Big Bill" Edwards, etc.

8 to 9:30 p. m., outdoor meeting: Long-acre Square, Forty-seventh Street and Broadway; speakers and entertainment.

8 to 11 p. m., outdoor meetings: Ninth-street and Broadway, 125th Street and Seventh Avenue, 181st Street and St. Nicholas Avenue; speaking and entertainment.

8 to 12 p. m., outdoor meeting: Argonne Forest, Forty-third Street and Broadway; special programme in conjunction with War Camp Community Service; speaking and entertainment.

9:30 to 11 p. m., outdoor meeting: Columbus Circle, Fifty-ninth Street and Broadway; speaking and entertainment.

7 to 11 p. m., Boy Scout movies: Special exhibition of "The Littlest," a Scout motion picture produced under the direction of Commodore Blackton, featuring the work of the Boy Scouts.

All day, camps: In fifteen public parks throughout the city, Boy Scouts' demonstrations of Scout life under canvas; daily drills, exercises, cooking, routine, etc.

ation of a trial for such an atrocious crime, but I am convinced that justice and right will prevail, and, fortified by a clear conscience and full faith in God, I will live to see my name cleared and all suspicion removed that I injured by thought, word or deed one who was so near and dear to me."

George E. Lascher, a florist residing at Great Neck, was the first talesman called. He said he did not think it improbable that a man might murder his wife. John B. C. Hegelman, of Glen Head, confessed the justice of capital punishment was a debatable point in his mind. David C. Jordan lived for nineteen years in East Rockaway and, as Dr. Wilkins also had lived there, it was assumed that he might be prejudiced in his favor.

John A. Wood, a farmer of South Smithfield, believed his business responsibilities would prevent him from giving all his attention to the case. Alfred P. Simonsen, of Wheatley Hills, was deemed unsuitable because he will be school with Charles Wyson. William J. Clark, a Homestead contractor, had formed his opinion on the case before he came to court. Charles A. Reitmeyer, of Freeport, did not believe in capital punishment.

The rest of the veniremen rejected for various reasons were: Louis C. Piquet, Woodbury; S. Edgar Dye, Roosevelt; Albert W. Flower, Bayville; George T. Soper, Cedarhurst; John C. Writenour, Hempstead; Henry E. Griffin, Oyster Bay; Joseph E. Overlooker, Cedar Bay; John Guthrie, Great Neck; and Charles H. Ellison, Jr., Baldwin.

Roosevelt "Next Governor"
Boom Is Started at Convention of Volunteer Firemen

OYSTER BAY, Long Island, June 10.—Lieutenant Colonel Theodore Roosevelt was acclaimed as "the next Governor" to-day at the conclusion of his address to the twenty-fourth annual convention of the Southern New York Volunteer Firemen's Association. The cry was taken up all over the hall. He refused to comment afterward.

Tomorrow the 500 delegates will march to Young's Cemetery and place wreaths on the grave of Theodore Roosevelt.

TELEPHONE BRACKETS
Equipment for
Serving Four Desks

Great variety of styles—raising, collapsible, swinging to meet any condition in office or home.
Representative will call to demonstrate. No obligation to purchase.
INSTALLED ON TRIAL FOR ONE WEEK
Circulars of All Styles on Request.
SCOFIELD & CO.
Tel. Beckman 4411 150 Nassau St., N. Y.

INSTRUCTION
New York—Manhattan

Lecture—a technical discussion of "Fundamentals of Accounting," by Frederick M. Schaeberle, C. P. A. (Ohio)—will be given at Pace Institute, Friday evening, June 13, 6 P. M. A limited number of tickets are available. Apply to Pace & Pace, 39 Church St., New York.

BERLITZ SCHOOL
Languages
28-30 West 34th Street
SCHOOL OPEN ALL SUMMER
SUMMER COURSES ON ALL EUROPEAN COUNTRIES

CAMPS
Ethan Allen Camp, Lake Champlain, N. H., June 10-15; July-Aug. 1-15. Military, naval, aviation; catalog, 7 E. 42d St., N. Y.

Policeman Lived In the Underworld Two Years as Spy

Story Revealed at Hearing on Charge of Accepting Bribe, Brought by Man in Jail Accused of Burglary

How he became the companion of thieves and for two years lived in the underworld as a police spy was told yesterday by Valentine O'Toole, a policeman, living at 266 Wyckoff Street, Brooklyn. The story came out as a character defence in his police trial on charges of accepting a bribe. By his work among lost thieves and pickpockets, he said yesterday, he had caused 172 arrests.

Acting under orders from Inspector Gray, he said, he disappeared from his home and friends in 1916 and lived, ate and slept with thieves who were terrorizing silk merchants and who have stolen $10,000,000 worth of silk in the last two years. O'Toole said that he went into Harlem as George Scott and faced the task of delivering organized bands of crooks to the police.

At one time, while with the pack of burglars, pickpockets and thieves, he said, they became suspicious that he was a "stool pigeon" and tried to kill him. While bleeding from seven stab wounds a policeman arrested him at the point of a gun without learning his identity.

The story was brought out by questions of John S. Beckett, the patrolman's counsel, to sustain his character. O'Toole contends that he is the victim of a conspiracy of organized law breakers who fear him. He is charged with accepting a bribe of $55 from Samuel Hirsch, who is awaiting trial on a charge of burglary. According to Hirsch's testimony, O'Toole demanded $500 from him and promised in return to "go easy on him." Hirsch says that he paid the patrolman the $55 on account on April 17.

Detectives who watched the attempted bribery say Hirsch showed the money, but did not give it to the policeman and that O'Toole did not mark bills on his person when arrested. Deputy Commissioner Leach reserved decision.

Plaza to Have Annex
The effect of prohibition on the hotel business is not worrying the proprietors of the Hotel Plaza, who announced yesterday that they intended to construct an annex to the hotel which will add 800 rooms to its capacity.

Obituary
WALTER S. GOODNOUGH
ROCKVILLE CENTRE, L. I., June 10.—Walter S. Goodnough, for several years director of manual training in the public school system of Greater New York, died at his home, 97 South Park Avenue, this afternoon. He was born in Boston, Mass., sixty-six years ago and was educated in the public schools there, later graduating from Commercial College, Boston. In 1873 he went to Salem, Mass., as a professor of drawing and the next year was appointed superintendent of drawing in the public schools of Columbus, Ohio. In 1891 he was made director of drawing in the public schools of the old city of Brooklyn, and in 1909 was named by Superintendent Maxwell director of manual training. His wife, who was Miss Charlotte Young, a school chum, survives with one son.

BRIG. GEN. JOHN G. D. KNIGHT
Brigadier General John George David Knight, U. S. A. (retired), seventy-three, died Monday night at Fair Oaks Sanitarium, Summit, N. J., after a long illness. General Knight was Engineering Commissioner of the District of Columbia since 1917. He was born in England in 1846, and he received an appointment from Missouri to West Point Military Academy, from which he was graduated in 1868.

Brigadier General Knight was chief of staff to General George W. Goetz in the Philippine Islands, and in 1909 he was appointed brigadier general just prior to his retirement. He offered his services to the government when the war broke out. He is survived by a widow and two daughters.

JOHN HYSLOP
John Hyslop, an authority on yachting and the official measurer of the New York Yacht Club, died Monday at his home, 4 Riverview Terrace. Mr. Hyslop had framed the measurement rules which governed yacht racing for many years. He had measured Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock II and Shamrock III, the Vigilant, the Defender, the two Valkyries, the Volunteer and the Thistle.

Mr. Hyslop was born eighty-five years ago. In 1898 he was a passenger on the steamship Mohegan when it went aground off the English coast. Here one hundred persons were drowned, but Mr. Hyslop saved himself by clinging to the topmast.

OBITUARY NOTES
MRS. GRACE WASSALL CHADBOURNE, wife of Thomas L. Chadbourne, a lawyer well known in Democratic politics, died Monday afternoon at her home, 520 Park Avenue, at 10:15 a. m. She was 71 years old. She had been ill for some time.

JAMES JEROME ENNIS, Jr., an athlete, died Monday at his home, 31 First Place, Brooklyn. He had been ill for some time.

THOMAS HAAS, a cafe owner, died Sunday at his residence, 566 Seneca Avenue, at 10:15 a. m. He was 65 years old. He had been ill for some time.

DR. JOSEPH WATERS, a Canadian, of the Parkwood Hotel, 40 Gramercy Park, died in Bellevue Hospital yesterday of heart disease. His father lives in Quebec.

DANIEL WINANT, seventy-seven years old, died Monday at his home, 110 West 11th Street, at 10:15 a. m. He was a member of the Crescent Athletic Club.

MRS. MARY AGNES CAIN HAYES, eighty-nine years old, widow of Colonel R. J. Hayes, a Civil War veteran, died last Saturday night at her home, 412 Fifty-ninth Street, Brooklyn.

MRS. HENRY R. BECKMAN, seventy years old, widow of Supreme Court Justice Beckman, died Monday at her home, 38 East Seventy-sixth Street.

ROPER HOUNSLOW, who served for four years in the Civil War as a private in Company D, 6th Connecticut Volunteer Infantry, died at the Soldiers' Home, New York, at 10:15 a. m. He was 85 years old.

MRS. IRENE H. VANDERVEER, forty-six years old, wife of Jacob Vanderveer, a former manager of the Nazareth Cement Works, died Monday at her home, 100 West 11th Street, at 10:15 a. m. She was a member of the New York Delaware Society. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Campbell Funeral Church.

JOHN HYSLOP
John Hyslop, an authority on yachting and the official measurer of the New York Yacht Club, died Monday at his home, 4 Riverview Terrace. Mr. Hyslop had framed the measurement rules which governed yacht racing for many years. He had measured Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock II and Shamrock III, the Vigilant, the Defender, the two Valkyries, the Volunteer and the Thistle.

Mr. Hyslop was born eighty-five years ago. In 1898 he was a passenger on the steamship Mohegan when it went aground off the English coast. Here one hundred persons were drowned, but Mr. Hyslop saved himself by clinging to the topmast.

OBITUARY NOTES
MRS. GRACE WASSALL CHADBOURNE, wife of Thomas L. Chadbourne, a lawyer well known in Democratic politics, died Monday afternoon at her home, 520 Park Avenue, at 10:15 a. m. She was 71 years old. She had been ill for some time.

JAMES JEROME ENNIS, Jr., an athlete, died Monday at his home, 31 First Place, Brooklyn. He had been ill for some time.

THOMAS HAAS, a cafe owner, died Sunday at his residence, 566 Seneca Avenue, at 10:15 a. m. He was 65 years old. He had been ill for some time.

DR. JOSEPH WATERS, a Canadian, of the Parkwood Hotel, 40 Gramercy Park, died in Bellevue Hospital yesterday of heart disease. His father lives in Quebec.

DANIEL WINANT, seventy-seven years old, died Monday at his home, 110 West 11th Street, at 10:15 a. m. He was a member of the Crescent Athletic Club.

Newspaper Veteran Is Taken by Death

W. H. Harding Dies at His Long Island Home After Long Illness

William H. Harding, sixty-five, advertising manager of "The New York Times Book Review," died early Monday morning at his home, Brightwaters, Long Island, after a long illness. His home in this city was at 56 Fort Washington Avenue. Mr. Harding was well known by publishers and newspapermen, for he had held many varied positions. He was born in England, educated at the Naval Military School near Portsmouth, and joined the British mercantile marine when a young man. His first newspaper position was that of cable editor of "The World" in this city. He held the same position on "The New York Herald," and was a reporter on "The New York Times" thirty-five years ago. For sixteen years he served as foreign editor of The Associated Press. In 1907 he became associate editor of "The Fourth Estate," and in 1909 he joined the business department of "The New York Times."

Mr. Harding was the author of a short "History of China," a "History of the Boer War," and "Dreyfus, the Prisoner of Devil's Island." He is survived by his widow and a son. The funeral will be held to-day at Brightwaters, Long Island.

Chief of Germany's Naval Staff Is Dead

Berlin Announces Passing of von Holtzendorff, Noted
U-Boat Strategist

BERLIN, June 9.—The death was announced to-day of Admiral von Holtzendorff, head of the German General Naval Staff during the greater part of the war.

Admiral Henning von Holtzendorff was born in Berlin in 1853. He was made a rear admiral, and in 1907 vice-admiral in command of the German High Seas Fleet.

He played an important part in the development of the German navy prior to the war. He became head of the naval general staff in 1915 and he held that position until August 2, 1918. Prior to his retirement, which was announced as due to bad health, Admiral von Holtzendorff had said that U-boats were unable to sink many United States transports because of the number of strong naval escorts available and the strength of the U-boats.

In 1916 he told Carl W. Ackerman, "We have no desire for a break with the United States. That would be insanity." In 1917 the Kaiser conferred upon him the Order Pour la Merite, in recognition of the effective work of the German submarines.

THE REV. THOMAS F. GREGG
Rev. Thomas F. Gregg, sixty-five years old, rector of St. Augustine's Catholic Church, 167th Street and Franklin Avenue, the Bronx, died Monday of diabetes. Father Gregg was born in Poughkeepsie and was educated in the parochial schools there and in seminaries in New York State. He was ordained in St. Joseph's Cathedral, Buffalo, in 1877. After his ordination he was appointed assistant pastor of the Church of the Sacred Heart of this city. In 1890 he was transferred to St. Augustine's. He was chaplain of the Bronx Council of the Knights of Columbus.

ENGAGEMENTS
BRUCHHAUSER—VAN DUSEN—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Van Dusen, of 155 Riverside Drive, announce the engagement of their daughter, Harriet, to William K. Bruchhauser, lieutenant, U. S. N. R. F., son of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Bruchhauser, of Baldwin, Long Island.

MARRIAGES
MORGAN—DE GERSDORFF—On June 7, the Rev. George C. Groves, officiating, by the Rev. George C. Groves, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan, of New York.

DEATHS
CHADBOURNE—Grace Chadbourne, wife of Thomas L. Chadbourne, at 520 Park Ave., at 10:15 a. m. Funeral private. Kindly omit flowers.

DELANEY—Nellie L., suddenly, on June 8, beloved daughter of the late John and Margaret Delaney (nee Zerkow) and sister of John, William, George, and Edward, died at her residence, 245 East 14th St., Brooklyn, Wednesday, June 11, at 9:30 a. m. Interment private. Roman Catholic Church. Interment private. Automobile cortege.

GILKEY—Mrs. Blanche Attes, beloved wife of Evanston Hospital, Evanston, Ill., died at her residence, in Kenilworth, Ill. Interment private at Kenilworth, Ill.

GREENWALD—Rose, on June 9, in her 48th year, beloved wife of Henry and devoted mother of Curtis and devoted daughter of Jennie Holborn and Tobias MacMichael and Milton Greenbaum. Funeral Wednesday, June 11, at 10 a. m.

GREGG—On Monday, June 10, at the rectory, 118 Franklin Ave., Bronx, New York City, the Rev. Thomas F. Gregg, rector of St. Augustine's Church, Divine Office mass Thursday, June 13, at 8 a. m. Solemn requiem mass Thursday, June 13, at 8 a. m. Interment Poughkeepsie, N. Y. Poughkeepsie, N. Y. Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

HAGEDORN—On Monday, June 10, at 10:15 a. m., after a lingering illness, Wilhelm F. Hagedorn, in the fifth year of his age. Funeral service will be held at 402 Park Ave., Plainfield, N. J., Wednesday, June 11, at 4:15 p. m.

HARDING—On Monday, June 9, Woodland Drive, Brightwaters, Long Island, William H. Harding, aged 65. Funeral Wednesday, June 11, at 10 a. m.

HYSLOP—On June 9, at his residence, 4 Riverview Terrace, John Hyslop, in his 85th year. Funeral service at the Meeting House of the Society for Ethical Culture, 64th St. and Central Park West, at 10 a. m. Wednesday, June 11. Interment at convenience of the family. London papers please copy.

ISLEY—At his residence, 122 East 84th St., New York City, on Monday, June 9, 1919, in the 66th year of his age, Charles Isley, son of William B. and Julia Isley and husband of Mary Lincoln Isley. Funeral services at his residence on Wednesday, June 11, at 10 a. m. Please omit flowers.

JOHNSON—On Monday, June 10, at the rectory, 118 Franklin Ave., Bronx, New York City, the Rev. Thomas F. Gregg, rector of St. Augustine's Church, Divine Office mass Thursday, June 13, at 8 a. m. Solemn requiem mass Thursday, June 13, at 8 a. m. Interment Poughkeepsie, N. Y. Poughkeepsie, N. Y. Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

JOHN A. WEEKS, President, STUYVESANT FISH, Recording Sec'y.

JOHNSON—On Monday, June 9, in her 92d year, at the home of her son, Frank E. Johnson, 48 West 33d St., Service Wednesday morning, 11 o'clock. Interment at Rockland Cemetery, Sparkill, N. Y.

Former Senator
John Coit Spooner
Dies in Home Here

Once Prominent Republican
Leader From Wisconsin
Succumbs at Age of 76;
Was Ill Several Weeks

NEW YORK, June 11.—John Coit Spooner, former United States Senator from Wisconsin, died at his home here early to-day, after an illness of several weeks. He suffered a relapse Monday after having partially recovered from a nervous breakdown. Mr. Spooner was seventy-six years old, and because of his age his family entertained fear for his life when he was first stricken.

Served Long in Senate
John Coit Spooner, former United States Senator from Wisconsin, served in Washington for more than sixteen years, resigning in 1907 to take up the practice of law in New York City. He was elected to the Senate in 1885 and served until 1891. In 1897 he was re-elected.

He was born in Lawrenceville, Ind., January 6, 1843. In 1864, in response to Lincoln's call for volunteers, he joined a company among his fellow students at the University of Wisconsin. He enlisted in the 40th Wisconsin Infantry and attained the rank of captain while in the Indian outbreaks in the Sioux country. In 1865 he was brevetted major and was mustered out the following year.

After the war he began the study of law. He was admitted to the bar in 1867 and became an Assistant Attorney General of Wisconsin in 1869. Early in his legal career he became associated with railway interests, later being appointed general counsel for several roads.

Mr. Spooner helped to settle for all time a question of great importance to the Northwest when he won in the Supreme Court the decision that the forfeiture of a land grant to a railroad can come only through specific act of Congress.

Declines Cabinet Post
In 1871 he was elected to the Legislature and while there obtained the passage of a bill to levy a general state tax to be added annually and forever to the income of the State University which was the foundation of the prosperity and growth of that institution.

Mr. Spooner's political fights always were characterized by an unusual degree of fairness. One of his stipulations in entering the race for the United States Senate was that no personal disrespect should be spoken or printed about either of his opponents.

In Congress his particular forte was in making direct and effective laws, trimming and clarifying early drafts. He was known as "the most adroit rapid-fire debaters in the Senate" and was called by the Democrats "the great disappearing gun of the majority."

In 1892 he was the Republican candidate for Governor of Wisconsin, but was defeated by Governor Peck. In 1893 President McKinley offered him the Secretaryship of the Interior, which he declined. Later he refused to accept a position on the United States and British Joint High Commission, and in 1901 he declined McKinley's offer of the post of Attorney General.

Birth, Engagement, Marriage, Death and In Memoriam
Notices may be telephoned to The Tribune any time up to midnight for insertion in the next day's paper. Just call Beckman 3000 and send the notice as you wish it inserted. Bill for same will be mailed to you later.

ENGAGEMENTS
BRUCHHAUSER—VAN DUSEN—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Van Dusen, of 155 Riverside Drive, announce the engagement of their daughter, Harriet, to William K. Bruchhauser, lieutenant, U. S. N. R. F., son of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Bruchhauser, of Baldwin, Long Island.

MARRIAGES
MORGAN—DE GERSDORFF—On June 7, the Rev. George C. Groves, officiating, by the Rev. George C. Groves, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan, of New York.

DEATHS
CHADBOURNE—Grace Chadbourne, wife of Thomas L. Chadbourne, at 520 Park Ave., at 10:15 a. m. Funeral private. Kindly omit flowers.

DELANEY—Nellie L., suddenly, on June 8, beloved daughter of the late John and Margaret Delaney (nee Zerkow) and sister of John, William, George, and Edward, died at her residence, 245 East 14th St., Brooklyn, Wednesday, June 11, at 9:30 a. m. Interment private. Roman Catholic Church. Interment private. Automobile cortege.

GILKEY—Mrs. Blanche Attes, beloved wife of Evanston Hospital, Evanston, Ill., died at her residence, in Kenilworth, Ill. Interment private at Kenilworth, Ill.

GREENWALD—Rose, on June 9, in her 48th year, beloved wife of Henry and devoted mother of Curtis and devoted daughter of Jennie Holborn and Tobias MacMichael and Milton Greenbaum. Funeral Wednesday, June 11, at 10 a. m.

GREGG—On Monday, June 10, at the rectory, 118 Franklin Ave., Bronx, New York City, the Rev. Thomas F. Gregg, rector of St. Augustine's Church, Divine Office mass Thursday, June 13, at 8 a. m. Solemn requiem mass Thursday, June 13, at 8 a. m. Interment Poughkeepsie, N. Y. Poughkeepsie, N. Y. Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

HAGEDORN—On Monday, June 10, at 10:15 a. m., after a lingering illness, Wilhelm F. Hagedorn, in the fifth year of his age. Funeral service will be held at 402 Park Ave., Plainfield, N. J., Wednesday, June 11, at 4:15 p. m.

HARDING—On Monday, June 9, Woodland Drive, Brightwaters, Long Island, William H. Harding, aged 65. Funeral Wednesday, June 11, at 10 a. m.

HYSLOP—On June 9, at his residence, 4 Riverview Terrace, John Hyslop, in his 85th year. Funeral service at the Meeting House of the Society for Ethical Culture, 64th St. and Central Park West, at 10 a. m. Wednesday, June 11. Interment at convenience of the family. London papers please copy.

ISLEY—At his residence, 122 East 84th St., New York City, on Monday, June 9, 1919